The republican party is the Mend S. of the political race course.

The democratic side-show will continue its performance at reduced rates.

The democrats are building much better than they know. The more they slander Blaine, the greater will be the republican vote.

After a while the democrats will say that the bolting of Curtis, Sobor and Beecher and the Harper's, the Times and the Post, was a campaign dodge.

The voice of Ohio is simply a condemnation of those who are engaged in defaming the honor of James G. Blaine, and libelling American proboscis.

Judging from the democratic press of the state and the silence of democratic orators, there is no democratic state ticket racing in Wisconsin this year.

There may be some doubt about New Jersey going for Blaine. Will Carl Schurz please go there and take the stump against Blaine, and remove that doubt.

No democratic editor has yet been able to explain the meaning of the Ohio election. There are a good many things in this course that democratic editors can not explain.

Chairman Bartram begins to see that he might as well blanket his mules for the rest of the campaign. With all the political stunts blowing Blaine's name there is no use for campaign mules.

"Just wait till November," cry the democrats. Yes, but two weeks ago the cry was "just wait for Ohio." Well, we waited for Ohio, and how do the democrats like the waiting?

A party that has no definite principle which it dares to present to the country, can never succeed. That is the reason why the democratic party goes and runs in every national contest.

The reception of Mr. Blaine in Chicago will probably surpass anything of the kind seen in this town. Arrangements are making to send an escort of 1,000 men to accompany him from Springfield.

Once Lord Tennyson wrote this famous couplet:

Every minute dies a man,
Every minute one is born.

According to the Statesman's Year Book, which is pretty good authority on the mortality of the human race, sixty-seven persons die every minute.

A campaign poet whose outburst is up to high-water mark, sends forth the following:

Like from the tomb a mournful sound,
"The Windfall Blaine" crys—
"Come, Grover, come and see the ground Where you must shortly lie."

Mr. Becover has been engaged to preach the sermon at the funeral, and Mr. Schurz will finger the piano.

The condition of the democratic party, which not only hoped to win in Ohio but the members of the party having bet their money, reminds one of what Michael Clarys, the pugilist said some time ago: "I don't so much mind getting licked, though that's bad enough, but to get licked and lose my money, too, why that's worse than—well, I'm blessed if I know anything that is worse."

The Philadelphia Press to George William Curtis, greeting: "You will observe that the Ohio end of the party, which you describe as 'an organized conspiracy for spoils,' yesterday bumped up against the business section of the people's threatening machine. You will like to see notice that the threatening machine came out of the dissection unharmed, and is still doing business at the old stand. We agree with you that your democratic party is 'very hungry,' but it will have to continue the fast a little while longer."

democratic national administration the total receipts and expenditures of the government were $397,500,570. Of this amount the democratic officials, through whose hands it passed, managed to steal $2,650,107.81. During the present republican administration upwards of $8,000,000,000 have been collected and disbursed. Only $539,019 was stolen by dishonest officials. The democracy now propose to the American people to "turn the rascals out." Whom do they propose to substitute in their places? The rascals who show several hundred times greater capacity for stealing?

The following are the congressional majorities in Ohio, and though not official, the vote is mainly correct:

THE BACK COUNTIES.

Early Returns of the Ohio and West Virginia Elections.

Thoughts of the Politicians Lightly Turn to November, and the Rooms Continue to Make Things Lively.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—A special to The Inquirer from Washington, says: Fifty complete and estimated, give a net Democratic majority of 2,818. This is a Republican gain of 14,382 over Jackson for governor, and 596 over the combined Greenback and Democratic vote at the legislative election. The Democrats give the Republicans a gain of fifteen in the legislature. Republicans are filling the streets with cheers. The Democratic majority will not exceed 4,000, and they claimed 15,000.

The following dispatch has just been received:

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 17.—Reassessing and trading votes has cost us seriously. Wilson's majority will not exceed 2,800, and is likely to go under it.

D. C. GALLAGHER.

Secretary of the Democratic committee.

This is a Republican gain of 2,400 over Jackson and 596 over the combined Democratic and Greenback vote.

An Associated Press dispatch says: As far as the Ohio election is concerned, the Democratic majority is 12,132; 22 counties give Republican majorities of 5,777; Democratic majorities 2,818; 4 counties to hear from, which may increase the Democratic majority to 3,200. The Democratic vote in 1880 was 12,132, and 3,100 over Republicans and Greenbacks. This year the Republicans and Greenbacks tied. It appears, however, that Democratic Greenbacks in most of the counties will be held in check by the Republican Greenbacks. The Democratic vote in the near future, call for the gravest consideration. The other articles in this number are: "Woman as a Political Factor," by Judge Robert C. Phipps; "Progress in Naval Armament," by Robert Phipps; and "The United States government has been in no condition to conduct a costly navy," by Frederick A. Anderson.

LYING FOR MISCHIEF.

Mr. Thomas A. Hendricks seems to be industriously engaged in peddling statements which he knows, or should know, are falsehoods. One of the charges he makes against the republican administration is that it is loading too much money in the treasury. He charges that heavy taxation is required in order to produce this enormous surplus. Let us see what kind of a budget this $400,000,000 is.

The October debt statement of the government shows that there was $452,000,000 in the treasury at that date. Now, of this amount $244,000,000 belongs to holders of gold and silver certificates. Instead of putting this $244,000,000 of gold and silver in circulation, there came a pressing demand for certificates instead of the coin itself which would be much easier to carry or handle. According to this demand the government issued the certificates, but of course, must keep the coin in the treasury with which to meet their redemption, for all the certificates are payable on demand. The government simply holds this cash as a trustee, and cannot pay it out to any one except the holders of the certificate.

There is a balance of $181,000,000 in the treasury with which to meet the current expenses of the government. It is no more than the government needs and no more than it ought to have. This will show that Hendricks's charge that the republicans are needlessly hoarding money in the treasury is a falsehood, and Hendricks knows this as well as anybody. He does not want to tell the truth about it for the very reason that he is engaged in doing nothing but deceiving the people.

MR. BLAINE AS A LEADER.

The result in Ohio and the enthusiasm in the republican party in all parts of the country establishes the fact that James G. Blaine is one of the most inspiring political leaders of his time. There are other republican statesmen just as great as he and worthy, but in Mr. Blaine there is a magnetism that has not been attached to any public man in this country since the time when the "Harry of the West" was the most brilliant leader of the whig party. Mr. Blaine is a leader of men—not a dictator. He is never arrogant or defiant. He is never offensive to those with whom he associates in public life. While he was in congress he won the lasting confidence and the deepest respect of democrats and republicans alike. There is not a democrat to-day, who served in congress with Mr. Blaine and became personally acquainted with him, who does not love the man.

Why is it thus? Because he is a man of genuine force, a man of extraordinary intelligence, a man of conscience, brain and courage, and a man who draws other men to him by the very force of his splendid presence and royal majesty. In this way he became leader of men for men like to follow such a man. He was never puffed up by pride and never gave men to meet under any circumstances that he was greater than they. Always dignified, always true, his associates in congress revered him.

The same relations Mr. Blaine sustains towards the public men of the country he sustains towards the people. Look at the tremendous orations he received in New York, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, and in fact everywhere he moves. His march is the march of triumph. Everywhere he goes the republican column is strengthened. Republican majorities follow him in course in Ohio, and they will follow him everywhere.

It is just as certain that Mr. Blaine will lead the republican party to a victory this fall as it is that the sun will rise on the morning of November fourth. Men who attempt to defame his character can not defeat him. Those who tattoo him can not put him under the heel of his enemies. Justice and intelligence reign in America, and James G. Blaine will be elected president.

of Mrs. Hendricks, and great applause greeted the announcement. The meeting was long and enthusiastic.

CLEVELAND PRESENTED WITH A CURE.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Governor Cleveland arrived Friday evening on the Hudson River train. He proceeded immediately to the executive mansion, where, soon after his arrival he was waited upon by Rev. Father Davany and T. F. Keane, of Olmsted, N. Y., and the secretary of the city. Father Davany stated to the governor that in a fair field some time since in his parish, a sane had been voted for, and that by a large majority the vote cast was for Grover Cleveland. He presented the case in a clear and convincing manner, and the governor, in an appropriate manner, answered Father Davany that he should highly prize the gift, and that he would carry it out to the very letter. His promise was the more earnest thanks. Refreshments were then served and the gentleman departed well pleased with his visit.

An Address from the National Democratic Committee.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—In view of the result of the elections in Ohio and West Virginia, the national Democratic committee has issued an address to the people of the United States, which says that the Democrats may confidently expect a majority in Ohio for Cleveland and Hendricks in November. The address then goes on to urge that the Democrats should not be discouraged by the results in Ohio and West Virginia, but should continue to work for the success of the Democrats in the United States, and that the Democrats should not be discouraged by the results in Ohio and West Virginia, but should continue to work for the success of the Democrats in the United States, and that the Democrats should not be discouraged by the results in Ohio and West Virginia, but should continue to work for the success of the Democrats in the United States.

Horses for Women.

[Brighton (Eng.) Letter.]

The horse-riding that goes on here is taking to be choiced by the ladies on horseback, and you may depend upon it that it is better for them than all the gymnastic exercises over invented. The liability to strain, and even internal injury, which is incurred in that kind of exercise, ought to induce sensible people to be extremely careful how they permit their daughters to sacrifice themselves on this scientific art. Buy them horses to ride if you want them to enjoy good health and sound constitutions. Nothing like horses for women. Send the professor to Sankin and put the girls on horseback.

Part of a Railway Train Takes an Avial Header.

The Engine, Baggage Car and One Coach Fall Fifty Feet—Two Killed and Eight Wounded—One Fatally.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 18.—The Cincinnati and Great Western special train, carrying 600 passengers, was derailed on the east fork of the river on the Cincinnati and Eastern narrow-gauge railroad, passing over the Manchester express was passing over it.

The bridge is fifty feet above the water. The engine, baggage-car, and first coach were hurled to the water beneath, while the rear car remained on the sound portion of the bridge.

Twenty-five persons were on the train at the time, and many made miraculous escapes, several jumping to the stream below. Following is a list of the victims:

Killed—Engineer El. Wilbur, of Sandusky; Fireman Henry Jones, of Manchester.

Wounded—Several cars, skull fractured; died; Devo Hicks, badly scalded and leg broken; cannot recover; Ben Moore, bruised about the head and shoulders; Thomas Taylor, nose broken, and bruised head and shoulders; John Smith, brakeman, leg sprained; Mary Swallow, shoulder bruised; James McCoy, badly cut about the head; Conductor Charles Durham, slightly injured.

A number of others received trifling injuries. The engine and baggage-car were both killed instantly. They were families. The bridge was being repaired but was considered safe. Several heavily loaded freight trains had passed over it a short time before the accident.

There were twenty-five passengers aboard, nearly all in the rear coach. And this coach followed the first section the loss of life would have been appalling. Most of those injured were serious cases.

Miss Melinda's Mysterious Wound.

Franklin, Ohio, Oct. 18.—Shortly before daylight Friday morning Mrs. Melinda Palmer, of 90 Webster street, Allegheny, Miss Palmer, whose rooms are in the neighborhood, was rescued from the second-story window by means of a ladder. When the ladder was extended, it was discovered that blood was gushing from a bullet-wound in Miss Palmer's right arm. She denied that she had been shot. She said she was aroused from her slumber to find the house on fire, and she jumped out of bed she felt a slight twinging in her arm and heard the report of a pistol. It was found that the lady's bed had been undisturbed during the night. In the fire-alarm box, a box of cartridges. At the bottom of a flight of stairs was found a lamp shattered to pieces. Miss Palmer, who is one of the leaders of the Salvation Army, has a lover, whom it is said she is very jealous, who resented in frequent quarrels. One theory advanced is that this gentleman called on the lady last night, and after a quarrel, he returned and fired a shot through the window. The shot was taken as evidence of the truth of this theory and of a desire to shield the man.

Hard Lines for Georgia Convicts.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 18.—A great sensation was created throughout the state a week ago by the killing of a convict in Lockport's camp by a negro guard. The story, as then told, was that a party of three convicts, all white, under guard of armed negroes, had been sent to Chattahoochee river, where Mr. Faulkner jumped in the river and was shot at by a negro guard. The body of the convict was found next day, and it was reported that a charge of bullets from a negro guard which caused his death. Jackson has been arrested and is now in Fulton county jail. The convict camp of Lockport is always a place of a hard name. It is stated as evidence of treatment of convicts that on Feb. 1, out of 100 convicts, twenty had died.

What Was Done with Dacey?

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 18.—Of the nineteen Italian rioters arrested by the police, eight were identified by Dacey as having been instrumental in his capture. These were arraigned Friday for assault and battery. The Italian foreigner, who was not a party to the assault, vigorously pleaded for his friends and begged a light sentence in view of their destitute circumstances. They were fined and committed to default. The suit was on an alleged breach of contract entered into by the plaintiffs and defendants for the publication of the life and adventures and untimely taking off of the famous bandit. Plaintiffs were to supply facts and receive 100 copies of the book and a royalty of 5 per cent. on all books sold. They claimed $2,000 damages, but the jury returned a verdict in their favor for $20.

One Man as a Mediator.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Important diplomatic dispatches have been received by cable during the past forty-eight hours, relating to the war between France and China, but the state department refuses to make them public. How China Will Fight.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The Standard's Hong Kong correspondent reports that China is preparing to make a stand in regard to the French and intends to pursue a sort of guerrilla warfare there, reserving her armaments for the defense of Chinese territory proper, in the belief that France is now in earnest and will not spend more an advance toward Peking.

A Canadian Town in the Hands of the Railway "Hunters" because it Trics to Enforce Local Prohibition.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 18.—Reports received from Michigan, on the north shore of Lake Superior, say that town is in the possession of a gang of roughs and whisky-sellers. The respectable people of the place have received notice to quit the town. On Friday night, Oct. 10, the Canadian Pacific railway office at Sault Ste. Marie was the scene of a riot. A man named John Mackenzie, an employee, was shot through the head. Mackenzie was shot at while in bed a few nights ago. The riot passed within a few inches of the head. The rioters are employed on the Canadian Pacific railway construction. Whenever work on that line is in progress the public works act, which prohibits the sale of liquor, is enforced. A Canadian Town in the Hands of the Railway "Hunters" because it Trics to Enforce Local Prohibition.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 18.—Reports received from Michigan, on the north shore of Lake Superior, say that town is in the possession of a gang of roughs and whisky-sellers. The respectable people of the place have received notice to quit the town. On Friday night, Oct. 10, the Canadian Pacific railway office at Sault Ste. Marie was the scene of a riot. A man named John Mackenzie, an employee, was shot through the head. Mackenzie was shot at while in bed a few nights ago. The riot passed within a few inches of the head. The rioters are employed on the Canadian Pacific railway construction. Whenever work on that line is in progress the public works act, which prohibits the sale of liquor, is enforced. The rioters object to this, and since the whisky peddlers in operating the law. On an attempt being made to suppress the traffic the liquor-sellers called in the assistance of the roughs and whisky men from Peninsular harbor, and their assistance was secured in operating the law. # GRAND OPENING

M. C. Smith's New York Cash Store.

For the Fall Trade of

Ladies' Garments.

consisting of

Dolmans, Sacks, Paletots, New Markets, Russian Circulars,

Etc. We have these garments in Seal Plush, Plain and Brocade Silk, and Plain and Diagonal Velvets.

To sum up the matter in a few words, we shall open on Tuesday, September 24, 1884, the largest and best assortment of ladies' garments ever shown in the interior of the state. We gave very large orders July 1st, to three different manufacturers of these goods, in order to have our goods made in the fall season of the year, when good help could be obtained to make garments, consequently our garments are much better made than garments are that are made in the summer. We are in a hurry, and manufacturers have to take any work they can get. Our garments are all tailor made, far superior to any that will be found at any other house in the city. It is a well known fact that we have taken the entire lead in the sale of ladies' line garments for the past two years, particularly Fine Seal Plush Dolmans, Dolmans and Circulars, running in price from $25 to $75. In these goods we defy all competition.

We properly say this to butt up our former efforts. We have the goods now ready for sale. Parties intending to buy garments this season the sooner they buy them the better the assortment will be to select from. We have now on hand a full assortment of sizes. Last season we had a good deal of trouble in getting sizes late in the season, and had to wait a long time to get them, and the garments were not so well made at that time of year, as they had to be rushed through.

We defy any house in Janesville to show as fine a stock of Seal Plush and Brocade Silk garments as we have at the present time.

We have just received three tons of one shipment of garments. We are told that we can cover all the amount of garments we have in stock. We know we can for these garments will sell themselves. All we have to do is to show them. Ladies desiring fine garments are respectfully requested to call early before the sizes are broken. Also a large stock of misses' and children's garments just received, very cheap.

SIMPLY MAGNIFICENT.

Such was the Republican Bat-ly at Janesville Yesterday.

The City Inundated by an Army of Many Thousands—Eloquent Speeches in the Afternoon by Wisconsin Notables—The

Madison Delegation 500 Strong—Enthusiasm in the Country Districts—The Unusually Impetuous and Vigorous

Address—5,000 Pinned Knights in Line—A Grand Parade, Participated in by Many Loyal Ladies—Notes of the Great Jubilee.

From the Madison Journal.

THE GRANDEST POLITICAL DEMONSTRATION ever held in Wisconsin, according to the testimony of men who are familiar with such occasions, was witnessed here yesterday and last evening, the torch-light procession at the latter time being simply magnificent, over 5,000 men, including a grand cavalcade of 600 horsemen, and almost countless bands being in line.

THE AFTERNOON

was devoted to speech-making, and between 5,000 and 7,000 people were in the Bismarck circus tent for three hours

while Congressman Wm. T. Price, Colonel John C. Spooner, Governor J. M.

Rusk, Hon. L. B. Caswell and Hon. O. H.

Patrick delivered, in succession, enthusiastic addresses which elicited exclamation from the multitude and provoked the warmest applause. The meeting was a grand success, the audience being composed not only of the loyal residents of Janesville, but of people from adjacent cities and villages, and the intelligent thoughtful farmers from the surrounding country.

GOVERNOR RUSK

and Secretary of State Thorne, with others, went to Janesville on the 11:30 passenger train, via the St. Paul road, and nearly one hundred

MADISONIANS

went on the 1:10 p. m. Northwestern train, the largest delegation from the capital city to the jubilee of the great train of eight coaches which left the Northwestern depot at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon. This delegation was composed of 307 persons by actual count, less than twenty of whom were ladies.

Two various Blaine and Logan clubs of the city formed at the republican vig-ilant at five o'clock and marched thence,

in uniform, headed by the Madison drum corps and a brass band.

THE MARCH

There were less than 200 in the line, the other 100 or more in the delegation going irregularly to the depot from their various homes, with uniforms under their arms. Six of the eight coaches were instantly crowded to their utmost capacity, the coaches being loaded and reserved for the contingents from Evansville and the various places between Madison and Janesville. Nor did the six coaches have accommodations for the delegation, a number of the delegates being obliged to stand on the platform or wait till the two empty coaches were unlocked, to secure seats.

No incident worthy of note occurred on the route. The residents all along the line were heartily aroused, and at Oregon and other places
